

Stand with us.

House of Longevity is building a team of ambassadors.
Eight kinds of people. One of them is you.

House of Longevity. Ambassador program, 2026.

The premium Australian longevity clinic.

Doctor-led. Built for people who take the long game seriously.

We don't want a billboard face.

We want people who already live this way, with a crowd that trusts them.

No scripts. No polish. Just your life, as you live it.

Eight roles. One team.

Some roles will have a few voices, some just one. Every one matters. Tap a face to find yours.

01
Retired pro

02
Elite coach

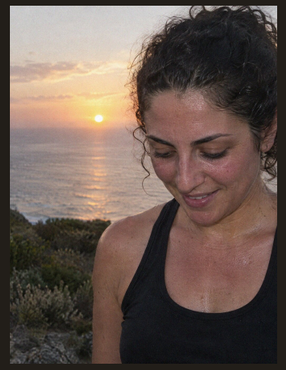

03
Strength voice

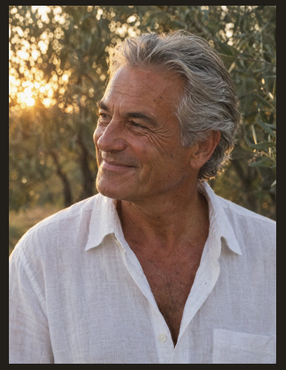

04
Founder

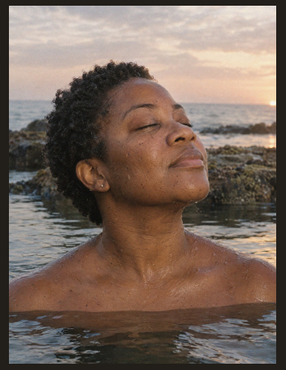

05
FIFO voice

06
Endurance athlete

07
Lifestyle curator

08
Longevity optimiser

01 The retired pro

They never stopped watching.

You gave them years of Saturdays. They still trust your word.

Your crowd	Everyone who grew up watching you play. Tradies and professionals, mums and dads, kids who had your poster on the wall.
Your role	Take HoL into rooms nobody else can reach. Events, big conversations, a seat on Pep In Your Step.
Your story	Business, family, and you still train. Show it as it is. The way you carry yourself says the rest.

Illustrative image

Illustrative image

02 The elite coach

You see the ceiling first.

Your people already invest in their bodies. You're the voice they listen to.

Your crowd	Athletes, executives and talent who already pay for the best.
Your role	Bring your craft: your floor, your methods, your thinking. We bring the doctors.
Your story	The early sessions, your floor, your own training. Real days, no script.

03 The strength voice

Strong in the boardroom. Strong under the bar.

You talk straight about strength, work and family. Women listen because you live it.

Your crowd	Women juggling careers, families and their own training. Plenty of men are taking notes too.
Your role	Show what strong looks like in midlife, and lead the conversation alongside our doctors.
Your story	The 5am lift, the board meeting, the school run. All of it, as it really is.

Illustrative image

Illustrative image

04 The founder

You build for the long game. So do we.

People follow how you think, how you lead and how you hold your standards.

Your crowd	Founders, CEOs and senior operators with zero time to waste.
Your role	Help shape HoL as it grows. Your thinking, written into our founding story.
Your story	The deal, the dinner, the morning run. Show how you actually keep going.

05 The FIFO voice

Your crew trusts you more than any ad.

Early starts, long swings, the flight home. You know the roster because you live it.

Your crowd	Crews on site, and the families waiting at home.
Your role	Be the familiar face. HoL is already on 166 screens across 60 mine sites. You make it human.
Your story	Life on swing, the gym on roster, the flight home. Real, not polished.

Illustrative image

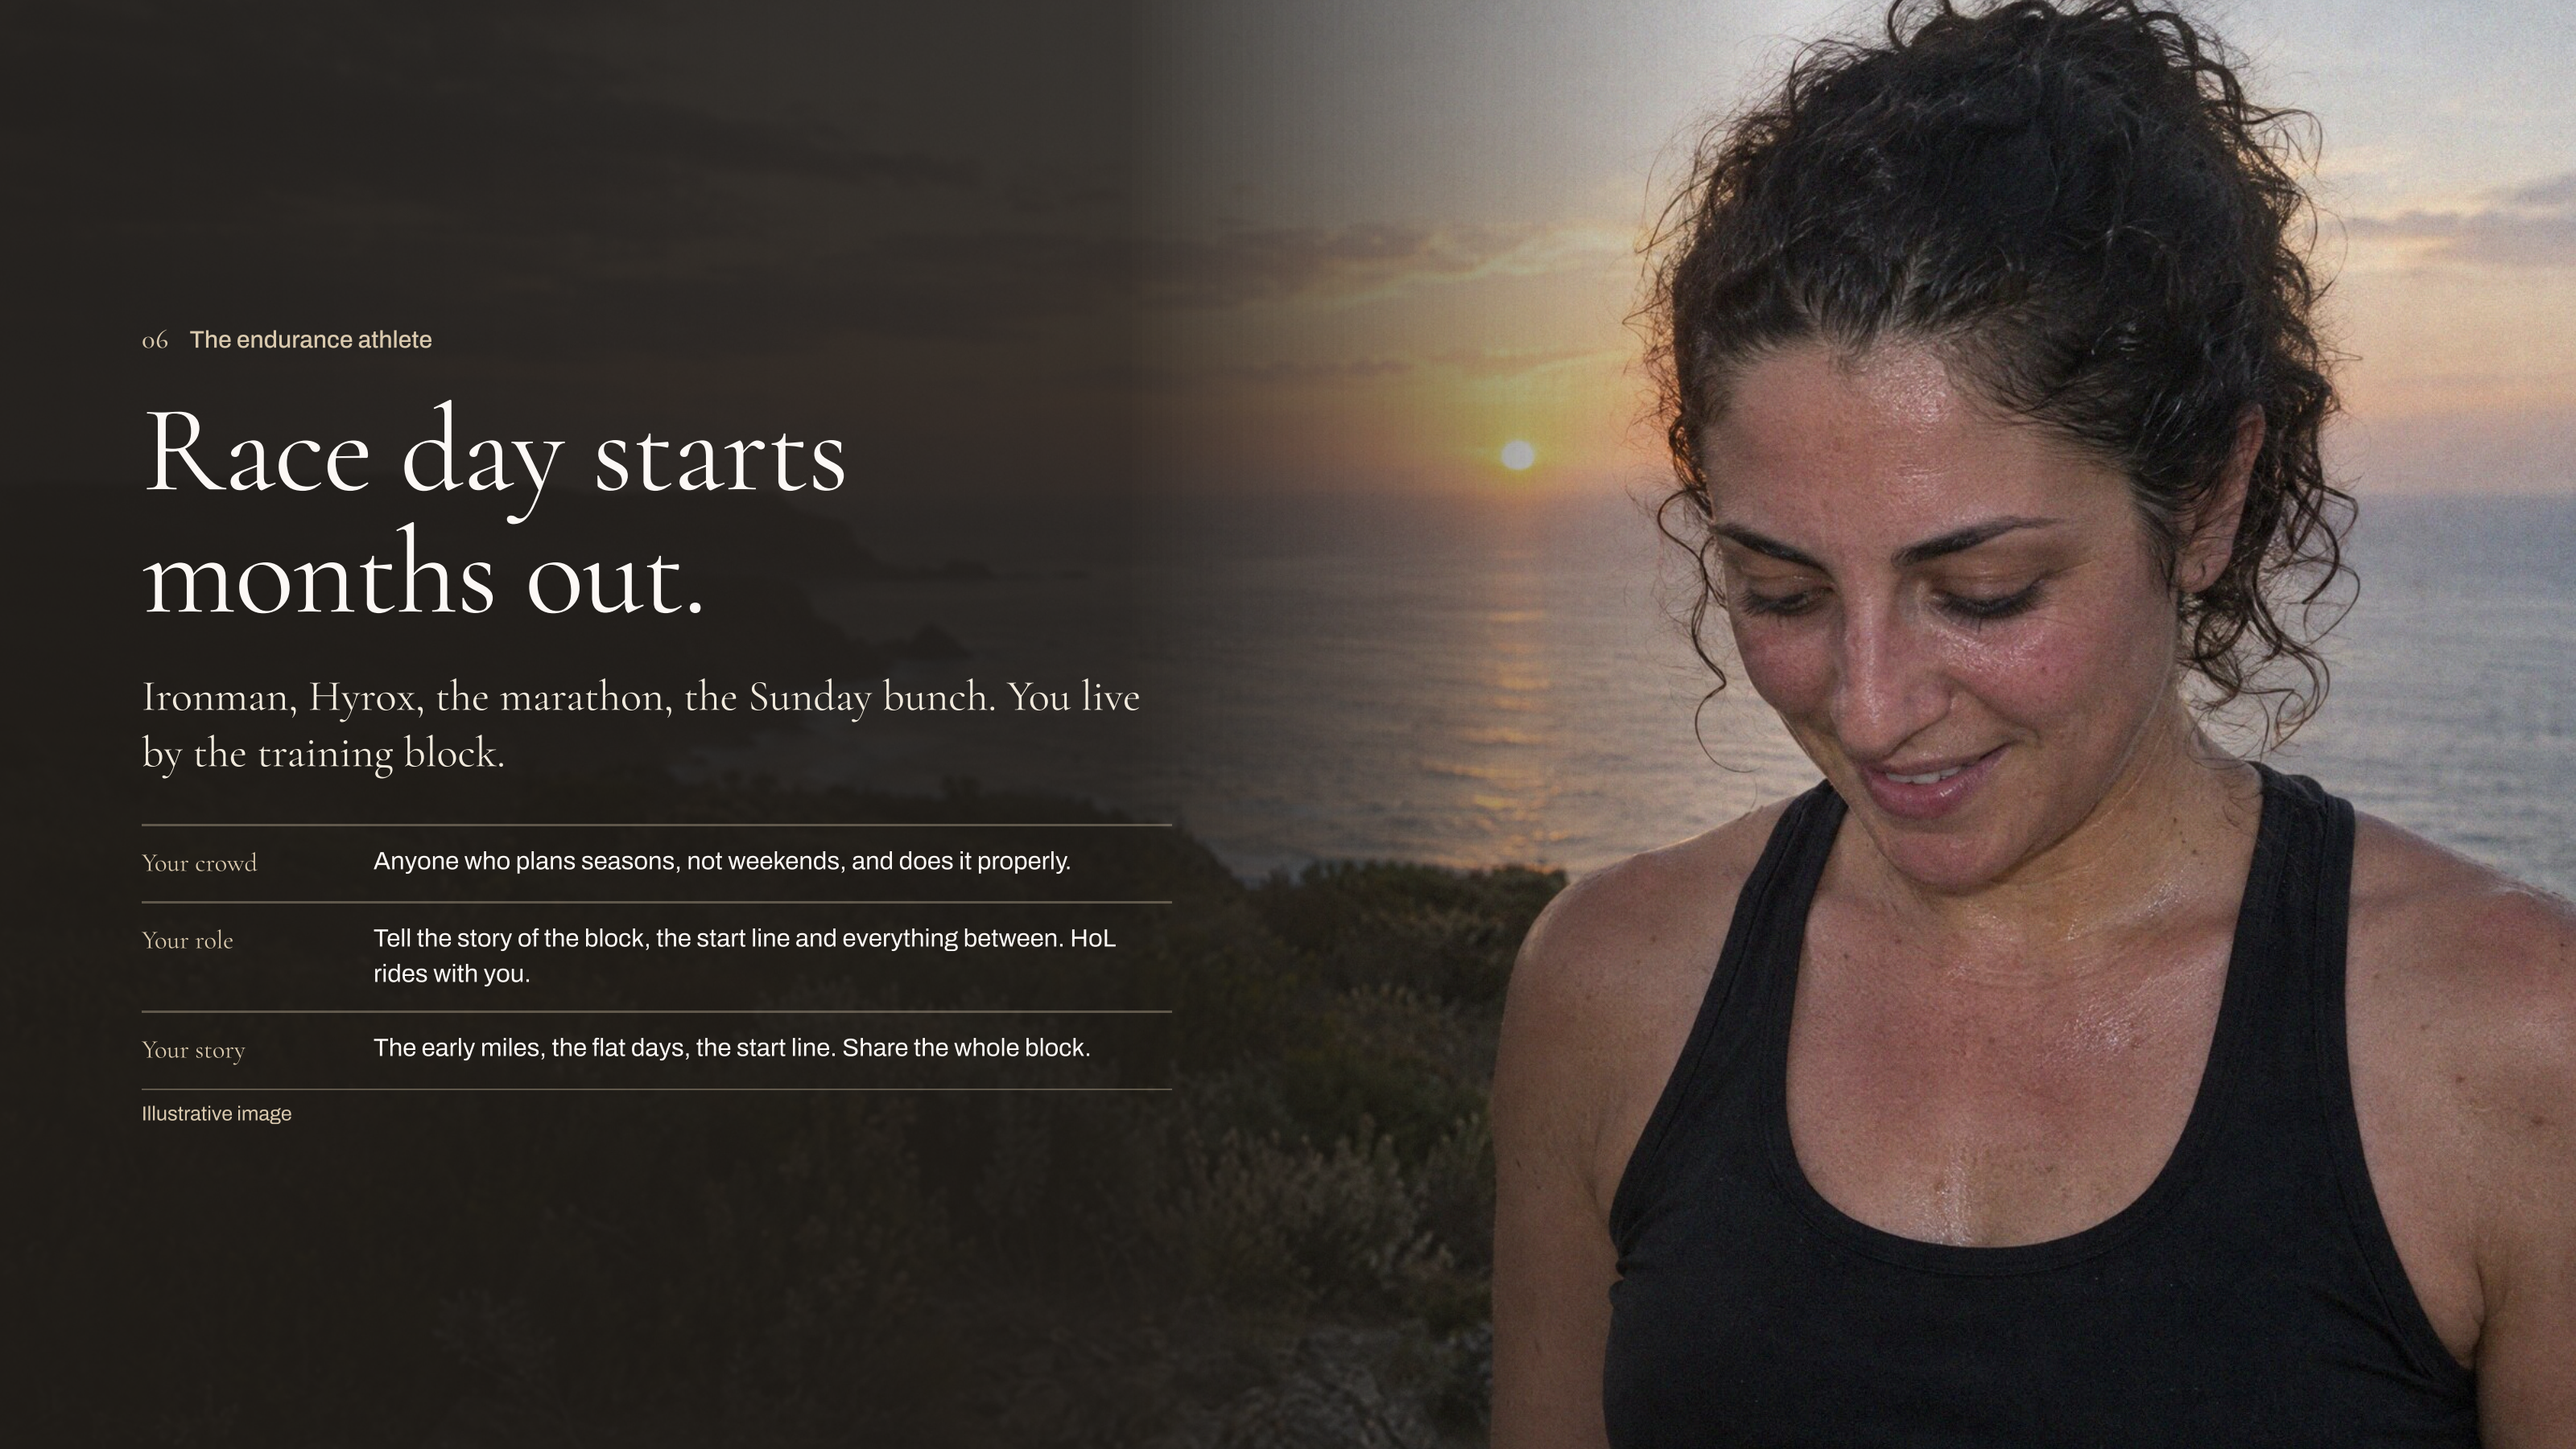

06 The endurance athlete

Race day starts months out.

Ironman, Hyrox, the marathon, the Sunday bunch. You live by the training block.

Your crowd	Anyone who plans seasons, not weekends, and does it properly.
Your role	Tell the story of the block, the start line and everything between. HoL rides with you.
Your story	The early miles, the flat days, the start line. Share the whole block.

Illustrative image

07 The lifestyle curator

You set the table. People come.

Retreats, venues, long lunches, early swims. You know how to make a place feel right.

Your crowd	People who travel well, eat well and choose carefully where they spend their time.
Your role	Host. Long tables and morning swims, with HoL in the room.
Your story	Your mornings, your table, your place. Life as you live it.

Illustrative image

Illustrative image

08 The longevity optimiser

You were here before it had a name.

Sleep, recovery, heat, cold. You've been tracking it for years.

Your crowd	Early adopters who speak the language of longevity and want it done properly.
Your role	Show your crowd what doing it right looks like: doctor-led, evidence first.
Your story	Your routine, your mornings, how you show up. No product names, no numbers. Just you.

See yourself in here?

Then let's talk. The next step is a conversation.

How we work together

Just be you. Real life beats a script.

Always upfront. Every post says we're partners.

Your story, not your chart. No one talks about their health or treatment, yours or anyone's.

Doctors do the medicine. You do what you do best.

HOUSE OF LONGEVITY

